2021 Hall of Fame Banquet and Induction Ceremony

The Historical Society of Mount Airy regrets to announce that the 2021 Hall of Fame Banquet and Induction Ceremony has been cancelled due to the continued COVID pandemic. Congratulations once again to the newest members of the Mount Airy Hall of Fame: Phil Dorsey, Sandy Cullison deWitt Dutterer, Evaleen Moxley Leon, Ruth Schmidt, Larry Valett and their families and friends. These five new members of the Mount Airy Hall of Fame are truly deserving people, who through their good works have helped to make Mount Airy such a wonderful place to live. We are truly sorry that the honors due to you have been delayed for so long because of the COVID pandemic. The Historical Society plans to extend these honors to you in March of 2022 when, God willing, the pandemic will be over.

NOTICE

The monthly meetings of the Historical Society of Mount Airy, MD., normally held on the first Tuesday of each month, have been cancelled until further notice. We hope to resume our meetings later this year after the majority of the people in the area have been vaccinated against COVID. We regret having to take this measure, but for the safety of everyone in and around Mount Airy, we believe it is the right thing to do. We are planning interesting programs for our meetings later this year. We hope you will join us when our meetings resume. Please watch our Facebook page for announcements.

Thank You for Your Support

The Historical Society of Mount Airy, Maryland would like to extend our sincere thanks to the following businesses and individuals who have made donations to the Historical Society. These donations are especially appreciated this year since our major fundraising efforts have been cancelled due to COVID. They will help us with the cost of printing the newsletter, cataloging and storage of new items in the collection, and the acquisition of new historical items. They will also help us pay for new, informative, and eye-catching exhibits in the all new Mount Airy Museum.

Ridgeville Overpass Now Completed and Opened for Traffic

Total Cost of $166,000 Will Be Borne Jointly by State and Baltimore & Ohio Railroad

Project Entirely Finished in About 135 Working Days

Eliminates a Hazardous Crossing on the Double Tracked Main Freight Line.

Finishing touches on the Ridgeville grade crossing project here has been thrown open to traffic. Steel guard cables have been erected along the approach to the overpass and the completed project is but another step being made by the State Roads Commission to give Maryland motorists the finest, safest, highways in the country.

Completed Ridgeville Overpass

Erected at a total cost of $166,000 which is divided on a 50-50 basis between the State and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, the steel girder type structure, encased with concrete and having earth approaches require 135 working days to complete. Forbes-Murphy Construction Company, Baltimore, were the general contractors in charge of the project. The overpass was built to the rigid specifications of the State Roads Commission, spans two railroad tracks and has a clearance of 22 feet above the rails. Twenty-seven foot wide clear concrete approached lead to the bridge and the length of relocation is 2200 feet.

More than 50,000 cubic yards of earth were removed from the adjoining property of Clarence M. Murray to fill in the highway approaches. All steel construction work was done by B&O workman. Approaches to the bridge have a grade of less than one-half of one percent. The overpass eliminated an extremely hazardous grade crossing on the freight cut-off on the main line of the Baltimore & Ohio from Point of Rocks to Baltimore. Beginning of the approach at either end is also located so that the curves are eliminated making a fairly straight stretch of highway from atop Parrsville hill to a point several hundred yards beyond the eastern end of the project.

When operations were at the peak, approximately 80 men were given employment, all local labor, possible being used. Completion of the Ridgeville project marks the finish of nine of 15 similar projects on the schedule of the State Roads Commission. The Gaithersburg project is going forward rapidly and 20 other crossings are slated for early elimination.

Editor's Note: The previous story appeared in the Mount Airy Community Reporter on Friday, December 5, 1930. It describes the "steel bridge", which crossed the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's tracks just below Parrsville. The steel bridge is now gone, removed when the U. S. 40 expressway (now Interstate 70) was constructed, but the bridge abutments and western approach remains at the eastern end of Parrsville Road.

Mount Airy's Contributions to Railroading

Did you know that residents of Mount Airy were responsible for several of the major railroading innovations? Some of these innovations are still in use here in America and elsewhere in the world. Discover these technological break-throughs in the Mount Airy Museum's latest exhibit: "Mount Airy's Contributions to Railroading." This exhibit, created by members Larry Valet and Wayne Evans, is now complete and open for viewing. It includes a panoramic view of a portion of the Planes of Parrs Ridge, a model of one of the original steam locomotives and drawings of original railroad inventions.

Membership Renewal and Annual Appeal

For annual members, it is time to renew your membership in the Historical Society. We value your membership and hope you will take this opportunity to continue your support.

The Mission of the Historical Society is to foster interest in the Town History and its various landmarks. The Historical Society also operates the Mount Airy Museum, which is used to share the town's history -- the artifacts, photographs and information in our collection. Normally the costs of fulfilling our mission, preserving our collection of artifacts, and preparing exhibits for the museum are paid by annual fundraisers such as the Boxes and Bags Bingo. In 2020 and now in 2021, we have had to cancel these fundraisers due to COVID. Therefore, we are appealing for your donation along with renewing your membership. Your active involvement and support through our Membership Drive and Appeal Campaign will help ensure that we can reach our goal of providing a better Mount Airy history interpretation and education for our community. A greatly appreciated donation may be sent to Mount Airy Historical Society, P. O. Box 244, Mt. Airy, MD 21771.

The Historical Society would like to extend a sincere "thank you" to all our members who have volunteered in any capacity, especially those who have kept the museum open for our visitors.

Once again, we are asking all of our members for your suggestions, ideas and comments for new museum exhibits and additional programs and projects. Any ideas you have, please write on the membership form. As always, we need volunteer hosts and hostesses to open the Museum and volunteers for other ongoing activities of the Historical Society. Please consider helping us and be sure to indicate your area of interest by checking the appropriate box.

When safe again to do so, we will recommence our monthly Historical Society meetings in the lower level of the Mount Airy Fire Company at 7 pm on the first Tuesday of every month except June, July and August. We hope you all will come join us.

Local Canning Co.

Plant Sale Totals

Upwards of $40,000

Raymond G. Brown, Local Huckster, Acquires Real Estate and Buildings for $12,000.

“Fair Notice!”

“Final Notice!”

“I have $12,100 once!”

“I have $12,100 twice!”

“I have $12,100 the third and last time and she is sold to this gentleman on my left!”

So chanted A. J. Billig, president of A. J. Billig & Co., Baltimore auctioning firm, last Monday, as he sold the buildings and real estate owned by the defunct Mt. Airy Canning Company to the high bidder, Raymond G. Brown, local huckster. Mr. Brown did not disclose what he proposed to do with the plant, formerly Mt. Airy's largest single industry.

Sale of the Mt. Airy Camming Company plant here – lock, stock and barrel—was begun at the premises shortly after 10 a.m. last Monday morning. A crowd of several hundred persons were on hand to witness the burial of the concern which in the past contributed immensely to Mt. Airy's economic well-being.

Bidders represented packing concerns from the eastern shore of Maryland, Baltimore City, Frederick and Carroll counties.

Total Approximates $40,000

Sale of the local plant, together with all equipment, machinery, trappings, tools, labels, canned goods, trademarks, and a thousand and one items, brought a total figure approximating $40,000. That, it was suggested by a person close to management when the concern was operated, by the late Senator Nelson H. Fooks, was some $170,000 less than the original cost price of $210,000.

At the outset, the auctioneer from his position of vantage in a chair, outlined the manner in which the property would be sold. First, he explained, the plant would be offered in an entirety and the bid reserved until other methods of sale, looking to realizing the most dollars, were invoked.

A representative of Boston Iron & Metal Works, industrial colossus of Baltimore, put the high bid of $26,000 on the place when it was offered in an entire unit. Then the crier unsuccessfully asked for bids for the machinery as a whole. His efforts to obtain a bid on real estate and buildings alone, likewise were fruitless.

Sell Equipment Piecemeal

For several hours thereafter Mr. Billig proceeded from building to boiler room and warehouse to garage, offering everything from soup to nuts in no less than 300 lots. For three hours he knocked off kidney beans, bright lithographed labels, generators powerful enough to light the entire town of Easton—everything, in fact, which the late Senator Nelson Fooks had acquired in some 20 years in building up what the auctioneer described as the most completely equipped canning plant in the United States.

More than a ton of labels which cost the purchasers upwards of $2,000 went for a quarter of that figure. A conveying system nearly new, installed a couple of years ago at a figure said to have exceeded $5,000, went for something like $500. A huge water tank, towering high over the buildings, was knocked down for $43.00.

Viner Station Goes For $510.

A filler, recently rebuilt and in which the owners had more than $1,500 invested, brought less than a third of the cost price. The viner station at Cooksville, erected some years ago to accommodate growers in central Howard county, was purchased by Thomas & Co., Frederick canners, for $510.

For several hours the auctioneer patiently asked for bids—and accepted figures which were ridiculously low when compared with the original cost price.

300 Lots Offered

Three hundred odd lots of merchandise—seed peas, boilers, a lot of coal, canned corn on the cob—were finally disposed of at a figure reputed to have totaled approximately $25,000.

Local Canning Co. Plant Sale Totals

Upwards of $40,000

The auctioneer, his several aides and buyers and onlookers then returned to the office where the plant was again offered as an entire unit, exclusive of the personal property and equipment. The second attempt brought results and the place was knocked off to the highest bidder, Raymond G. Brown.

A lot of ground on Hill Street, improved with a dwelling and office building, tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. William Merrick, was purchased by L. Pearce Bowlus for $2,000. Bowlus also acquired another small tract of ground in the rear of Hill Street, his bid of $20 being high.

Large Interests Represented

Included among the bidders were men who represented large Baltimore interests. There was the president and owner of White Coffee Pot, eating house chain; the president of Southern Packing Company whose purchases represented a tidy sum; the Lineboro Canning Company had representation as well as Feeser interests in Carroll county. The house of Phillips, Easton Shore packers, was also represented.

Disappointing, however, was the absence of a buyer who appeared inclined to buy and operate the property as a cannery.

The sale was conducted by Burton Proctor, Jr., in the capacity of Trustee of the Mt. Airy Canning Company, bankrupt. Steps toward winding up affairs of the town's largest single industry were taken last October when the corporation was adjudicated bankrupt in the United States District Court in Baltimore.

Garrett County

Property Sold for $16,000.

The Mountain Lake Park plant of the Mt. Airy Canning Company, on Tuesday was sold at public auction by Burton Proctor, Jr., Trustee in bankruptcy, to the Lambert Canning Company, Baltimore. The purchasers bid for the plant and equipment as an entirety was $16,000. They plan, according to Mr. Proctor, to operate the plant as a cannery.

Upon asking a Councilman why nothing had been done to correct the slippery conditions on Fri., Feb. 5th, I was told the town could not afford to buy salt or cinders and that using the snow plow was a waste of time.
