Spring 2025

The President's Pen

Mike Eacho

Please support all the businesses and organizations that advertised in the Historical Society of Mount Airy, Maryland's 2025 Hall of Fame program. Many of these advertisers have been supporters since the first Hall of Fame induction ceremony in March of 2000. The funds raised by the advertisements in this program help the Historical Society to defray the costs of the Hall of Fame Banquet and Induction Ceremony and provide a major source of income needed to sustain the Historical Society and the Mount Airy Museum throughout the year.

These businesses and organizations help to make Mount Airy the truly wonderful community that it is. The people who run these businesses are our neighbors and they rely on our patronage to survive.

Many thanks also to the volunteers who put his event together. It takes a tremendous amount of work planning, soliciting advertisers, selecting the honorees, preparing flower arrangements, setting up tables and table settings, preparing the program and taking and delivering photographs. This annual event would not be possible without all these efforts provided by volunteers.

2025 Hall of Fame Inductees

The Historical Society of Mount Airy has inducted its newest members into the Mount Airy Hall of Fame for 2025. These inductees are Mary Jo Burkett, Adele Connolly, Matthew Heard, John O. "Jack" Steel, and Frances E. "Fran" Wimmer. This group of inductees expands the overall membership to 140.

All of those nominated for this honor were truly special, but only five could be selected this year. They all contributed to the Mount Airy community in a positive way. The accomplishments of the nominees are described in the following columns.

Mary Jo Burkett

1949 -

Dental Hygienist / Volunteer

Mary Jo grew up in a blue collar environment in rural Westernport, MD. She was the youngest of five girls in a family, all of whom knew the value of hard work and of each doing their share. This work ethic carried over into all phases of her future. She attended parochial school for 10 years before transferring to Bruce High School where she graduated in 1967. She also worked part time as a dental assistant during her high school years, sparking her interest in the profession.

After attending Frostburg University for a period of time, she learned of a new dental Hygiene program to be started at Allegany College in Cumberland, Md. She applied, was accepted, and thus was a member of the program's inaugural graduating class in 1972. She then worked in the profession until retiring in 1995 to raise her two children.

Mary Jo believes that true happiness in life, in addition to her faith, is strongly supported and stimulated by significant social involvement in her community and its people. She moved here in 1978 and right away acted on this belief. Over 40+ years she has spoken to town council, zoning boards, health departments, board of county commissioners and others advocating issues of over development, zoning encroachments, property rights, and health.

In 1984 she took on chairmanship of a twice-annual Red Cross blood drive for Mt. Airy, which assured our citizens guaranteed supply of blood when needed. She received numerous accolades and awards from the American Red Cross for outstanding recruitment of donors, with record numbers turning out for the drives. She sustained this event for 24 years.

Early on, she was a member of the Mt. Airy Homemakers and the Jaycee-ettes. In 2017 she became a member of the Rotary Club, chaired membership, and then shortly thereafter, became president and watched the club flourish and grow during her term. She then became Assistant Area Governor for the Rotary district for 3 years. With the club she is currently working on international grants for "Wheelchairs for Ghana" and a literacy project in Purulia, India, a district grant for Disaster Aid USA for hurricane victims in Tennessee and North Carolina, and numerous local projects.

Mary Jo is married to her husband Paul, a retired Mt. Airy dentist, and will celebrate 50 years of marriage this September. They raised two children, Allison and Ryan. Sadly, Allison passed away at age 26 but Allison's daughter, Emma, is a junior at Boonsboro high school. Ryan is self-employed and a firearms instructor and is married to Detective Naomi Pontecorvo and lives in Frederick.

Some of Mary Jo's close friends have said that she easily converses with everyone she meets and "nobody is a stranger". She is always ready to make a meal, lend a hand, be a good listener, and "be there" for people in need. She says that Mt. Airy folks are family and that we live in the greatest "little" big town in the USA.

Adele Connolly

1956 -

Community Volunteer

Adele Connolly and her late husband, John, moved to the Frederick County side of Mount Airy in 1984. They subsequently raised their two children Heather and Patrick here. Adele worked for almost 40 years for the State of Maryland

Division of Rehabilitation

Services in a variety of professional and managerial positions until she retired in 2018. While working full time and as her children became involved in a variety of activities, she volunteered with the PTA at Twin Ridge Elementary and was a Cub Scout den leader. When she retired, she was determined to not be idle, so she began to research volunteer opportunities with the town. Since her retirement, she has been active with the Historical Society. She works as a docent at the museum, manages the website, serves as secretary for the Flat Iron Building Restoration Task Force and volunteers on various other historical society events, including bus ghost tours, haunted caboose, bingo, and most recently, providing presentations regarding Mount Airy history to the community. She is also the historical society's liaison to Celebrating America and has served with them as a History Day judge for several years.

In addition to her activities with the Historical Society, Adele volunteers at the Mount Airy Senior Center twice a week, and currently serves as President of the Senior Center Site Council, which assists in providing for goods and services that might not otherwise get provided, such as scholarships for exercise classes for those members who cannot afford the fees. She served on Mount Airy Senior Task Support (MASTS) for about 2 years, until that Task Force became the Mount Airy Commission on Aging and Livability in March of 2024. She serves as Chairperson of the Commission and works to assure that Mount Airy's aging population is recognized as a vital part of our community and are able to get the services they need to age in place as long as possible. In that capacity, she has advocated with both Carroll and Frederick Counties to facilitate cross-county collaboration on a variety of services. She has also advocated with the Senior Center to add some new programs, and has successfully added a Senior Center Book Club as well as a Coffee and Conversation program to expand participation for those seniors who may only want to come to the Center to socialize. The Commission's work is just beginning, and she is committed to remaining a vital part of their important work.

In her "spare" time, she also sings with the Clustered Spires Chorus of Sweet Adelines International, a barbershop chorus in Frederick. She serves on the chorus' management team and has just taken on the role of Membership Chair with them to facilitate membership recruitment and retention.

Matthew Heard

1975 -

Community Volunteer

Matthew Heard was born in Washington, D.C. His family moved to Mount Airy in 1976. He attended Mount Airy Elementary and Middle School and graduated from South Carroll High School in 1993. He began his career with the United States Post Office in 1995, where he held various positions before returning in 2021 as the Supervisor of Delivery at the Mount Airy Post Office.

Matthew has been an active and dedicated member of the Mount Airy Volunteer Fire Company for over 30 years. He is a life member and has held multiple leadership positions, including Vice President and President from 2006 to 2008. Currently, he serves as Vice President and co-chairs several community events, including the Fire Company Carnival, Mount Airy Duck Race with the Mt. Airy Rotary, and the Heroes Ride with the Maryland Patriot Guard.

In addition to his work with the fire company, Matthew is a life member of the CW4 Bill Ruth Post Auxiliary 10076 in Mount Airy, where he serves as the Guard and assists with fundraising events. He's a member of the Sons of American Gold Star Post 191, where he helps support the post by calling bingo once a month for the group.

Since 2019, Matthew has been actively involved with Pine Grove Cemetery, becoming Chairman of the Board in 2020. In this role, he supports families during times of loss and participates in local events such as the 9/11 Memorial, Wreaths Across America, and the Memorial Day program.

When he's not volunteering, Matthew enjoys hunting, playing golf, and spending quality time with his family and friends.

Editor's Note: The following story has been gathered from information in the 1880 and 1900 U.S. Census records, from Civil War U.S. Colored Troops regimental records and from numerous family trees found on Ancestry.com. The information in many cases is conflicting and varied. This story will be a part of the new "Mount Airy in the U.S. Civil War" exhibit that will open early next year in the Mount Airy Museum. If you know more about the history of Thomas Dorsey, or if you know one of the Dorsey family members who might be knowledgeable and can help us out, please let us know.

Thomas Dorsey, Local Civil War Veteran

Thomas Dorsey was born in Frederick County, Maryland, about 1840. He was born and grew up as a slave in Frederick County near Harrisville. At an early age, he was trained as a blacksmith and wheelwright. He was freed from slavery on or before April 1861 and took up farming.

Thomas Dorsey enlisted in Baltimore as a Private in Company F of the 4th Regiment U.S. Colored Infantry on August 4, 1863. At the time he was a 19 year old farmer. He had a brown complexion, black eyes, black hair and was 5'4½" tall.

The 4th U.S.C.T was organized, equipped and trained at Camp Carroll in Baltimore (where the Montgomery Wards building is located). On October 1, 1863, the regiment was sent to Fort Monroe in Virginia. Shortly after their arrival, Thomas and the men of his regiment were engaged in several expeditions including one in October 1863 to Matthews and Middlesex counties in the peninsula between the York and Rappahannock Rivers of Virginia and another one to Richmond in February 1864. In June of 1864, Thomas was sent sick to the General Hospital at Fort Monroe. He spent the rest of the war at Fort Monroe and at the Contraband Camp (a camp for escaped slaves) in Hampton, Virginia. On May 20, 1865, Thomas was discharged by order of the War Department at the General Hospital at Fort Monroe, Virginia, for health reasons on a surgeon's certificate.

After leaving the army, Thomas returned home to Carroll County. In about 1872, James Thomas Dorsey married Eveline Tabisia Smith. Eveline was born in 1854 in Buckeystown, Frederick County, Maryland. She was the daughter of Abraham Smith and Theresa Todd Smith.

Thomas and Eveline were the parents of Rosie Anna Dorsey, born June 25, 1872; Grafton I. "Nick" Dorsey, born July 18, 1872; Carrie C. Dorsey, born August 12, 1876; Dora Dorsey, born about 1878; Jeremiah O. Dorsey, born about 1879; Ruth E. Dorsey, born about 1879; and Thomas James Dorsey, born May 11, 1882.

In 1880, James Thomas Dorsey was 31 and lived in Election District 9 (Franklin District) of Carroll County, Maryland. He made his living as a blacksmith.

In 1900, Thomas was 57 and lived in Westminster and worked as a coachman and domestic servant for a Westminster lawyer named Charles Reifsnider.

Thomas Dorsey died July 30, 1911 in Mount Airy and he was buried in the cemetery at the Fairview United Methodist Church in Unionville (Franklinville). His wife Eveline and his son Grafton are buried by him.

Germany is Forced to Surrender

Teamwork of United Nations Ends Long and Bitter Struggle

Order to Cease Firing Given by Grand Admiral Doenitz Who Succeeded Adolf Hitler as Fuehrer – Goering and Kesserling Captured by Americans – 400,000 Yanks Will Be Kept in Europe As Army of Occupation

Eleven hard and bitter months after General Dwight D. Eisenhower's armies smashed through the ramparts of "Fortress Europe" to set foot on French soil, Germany's once proud Wermacht, weakened after six years of the bloodiest and costliest war in history, bowed the knee unconditionally to the Allied powers, and signed surrender terms at 3:41 p.m. Eastern War time, Sunday. The surrender was not announced officially, however, until Tuesday morning.

Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, who succeeded Adolph Hitler as the German Fuehrer, ordered troops to cease firing, but the bulk of the Nazi forces has already laid down their arms in the face of the Allied avalanche.

The Germans claim that Hitler is dead, but so far no traces of his body have been found. Herman Goering, once the second head Nazi, was captured Tuesday night by the American Seventh Army, as was Field Marshall Albert Kesserling, German commander on the Western front.

Old photographs, letters, uniforms, weapons and accoutrements from Civil War veterans of Mount Airy and the surrounding area. The Historical Society of Mount Airy would like to obtain these items through donations or loans for our newest exhibit on Mount Airy in the Civil War. The exhibit will open at the beginning of 2026 and will be included in the Mount Airy Museum until the end of 2026. Items can be dropped off at the museum. Help us to make this the Mount Airy Museum's best exhibit ever and to bring our town's history to those who didn't help make it!

German Atrocities Witnessed by Local GI War Prisoner

S/Sgt. Edward Hobbs, Recovering at Fort Meade, Went from 180 to 105 Pounds In Nazi Prison Camp

When Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Hobbs, Church street, visited their son, S/Sgt. Edward Hobbs at the Fort Meade Hospital on Tuesday, they saw a lad that was rapidly recovering from the hardships of a German prison camp.

When captured early in January during the height of Von Rundsted's lunge through Belgium, Eddie weighed 180 pounds and three months later, when released by General Patton's columns, tipped the scale at 105. His folks reported that he had gained 35 pounds., thanks to his diet and treatment since his liberation.

Mr. Hobbs said his son was anxious to forget the horrors of the Nazi prison camp and, somewhat nervous, talked very little. The lad, 24, did disclose that atrocity stories appearing in the press were not overdone. Hobbs said he existed on a bowl of soup given his camp every 24 hours and was one of a group forced to march through the snow without shoes. Fearful of what would happen next, they slept very little on their "bed" which was a sack spread on the bare ground.

- Many readers have been residents of Carroll County all their life and no doubt feel your fondness for this friendly rural district is well founded. Did you know that - The Carroll County Agricultural Society held its first annual fair in October 1869? The price of admission - 50¢ for adults, 25¢ for children. The B. F. Shriver Company was the pioneer of the vegetable packing company industry in Carroll County and at one time was the largest in the state. The first canning factory was in Union Mills in 1869. The southern section of the county was in Taylorsville and Winfield was the center of the world’s largest producer of wormseed oil. The weed was cultivated here as early as 1846. Large scale production began around 1915. Besides its function as a medicine for treatment of hookworms, Indians earlier brewed the plant into a “Mexican tea” and kept it on hand for a vermifuge (an agent that destroys or expels parasitic worms). The oil was a wood preservative used largely for painting the interior of Baltimore Clipper ships bound for the tropics. 6/27/75
